

Realtor gets a lift from FOX News

Joan Camerlengo Realty got a little help from WNYW's FOX 5's Good Day

New York. Kai Simonsen, reporter of the SkyFox helicopter, chose to feature the Staten Island real estate firm in his "Flyby" segment on Dec. 15. Clients, friends and family members came out to support Camerlengo Realty on the popular morning show's live broadcast, which was followed by a breakfast in the Grant City office.

Broker/owner Joan Camerlengo spoke with Simonsen during the television spot by cell phone. When asked by Simonsen what viewers should know about Staten Island, since it is usually referred to as "the forgotten borough", Camerlengo emphasized that Staten Island is a "bedroom community," a wonderful place to raise a family in a relatively safe environment, and a great place to live.

Joan Camerlengo Realty is committed to providing its clients with outstanding service — without the use of high-pressure sales tactics. Residents looking to purchase a home, or trying to find a knowledgeable Realtor to entrust with their most valuable asset, can call (718) 351-3777 or e-mail: info@joancamerlengorealty.com.

Family, friends and clients join Joan Camerlengo in the parking lot of her agency during a cell phone interview with FOX 5 news reporter Kai Simonsen.